

Growing Through Gratitude

By Meghan Davis, Director of Lifestyle Enrichment

As harvest season comes to a close, we can begin to think about cultivating gratitude within ourselves for our own growing season.

Robert A. Emmons, Ph.D., is the world's leading scientific expert on gratitude. He is a professor of psychology at the University of California, Davis, and the founding editor-in-chief of The Journal of Positive Psychology. He found that expressing gratitude improves mental, physical, and relational well-being. Furthermore, being grateful impacts the overall experience of happiness and these effects tend to be long-lasting. Research shows that just two weeks of recording experiences for which one is grateful has lasting positive effects sustained for up to six months.

Here are some gratitude exercises that you can try to help you grow your gratitude.

- Keep a gratitude journal by your bedside and list 3-5 positive experiences from the day. Elaborate on one of these ideas.
- Make a ritual of 2-5 minute "gratitude meditations."
- Linger on thoughts of positive moments from the day.

- Say thank you often - particularly to those who serve you!
- Practice not gossiping, complaining, or judging for a day.

This month we are especially appreciative of our veterans. Operation Gratitude is on a mission to thank every American who serves. From writing letters to a Halloween candy drive or making scarves and hats, there are ways for everyone to show appreciation and thanks.

How will you grow your gratitude this month?

Cause for Gratitude

By Meghan Davis, Director of Lifestyle Enrichment

Thank you to everyone who participated in the Walk to End Alzheimer's! Residents, staff, and family members have been busy throughout our communities, raising funds and awareness for the Alzheimer's Association. From hosting an on-site walk at Heritage Place to Summit Woods' residents baking cookies for the Waukesha Walk, we've covered a lot of ground! The Ozaukee County Walk was highlighted with the National Anthem sung by Village Pointe Commons Community Relations Manger Kathy Rassel and Casetta resident Linda R. representing those who have lost a loved one to the disease in the Promise Garden ceremony.

Capri Communities was recently honored for our contribution as the corporate team to raise the largest funds in Waukesha County. Fundraising totals are still rolling in, but collectively Capri Communities has raised over $26,731 this year! Congratulations to Harbor Campus (pictured here) for being the community to raise the most funds!

Lessons from

Did you know there are significant benefits in spending time outdoors and getting fresh air?

Fresh air is good for your digestive system. It increases the flow of oxygen, helping you digest food more effectively. This will particularly help if you are trying to lose weight.

Fresh air helps improve blood pressure and heart rate. Being outside can be relaxing.

Fresh air makes you happier. The more fresh air you get, the more oxygen you will breathe in which will increase your serotonin (the happy hormone), consequently making you happier.

Fresh air strengthens your immune system. Increasing the amount of oxygen through fresh air helps our white blood cells function properly by fighting and killing bacteria and germs.

Fresh air cleans your lungs. Your lungs dilate more from having an increase of oxygen. You release airborne toxins from your body when deeply exhaling.

Happy birthday to Casa del Maré resident Joe B (pictured)! Joe turned 100 on October 14th. He was drafted during World War II and served in the Army Infantry and then in the Air Force. "I did basic training in Kansas and two years at Texas A&M for Air Force training," he said, reminiscing. He has traveled to almost all parts of the globe and has seen some impactful changes in his 100 years. "We all know the computer is the best invention, though."

Hyland Park resident Connie D turned 100 on October 21st! She has been married to her husband Ken, who turned 100 earlier this year, for 76 happy years. She worked as a teacher for 43 years and volunteered to teach English as a second language. "People ask me what my secret is for a long, happy life. I always tell them it's heredity and good luck," said Connie, laughing. "A good marriage with equality and respect along with making other people happy helps, too."

Resident Spotlight

Meet Audrey D., Heritage Place

Audrey was born in 1922 in the Cotswold District in England. She remembers the terror of air raid sirens during World War II and taking shelter. To this day, she needs to gather up courage to use an elevator.

Audrey served in the War and even worked alongside Princess Elizabeth (now Queen Elizabeth). Audrey's husband Joe was a Lieutenant Colonel in the U.S. Army. They have two children who were born in England, two children born in the U.S., and six grandchildren.

After moving to the United States, Audrey worked at Pilgrim Square and then at Marshall Fields in Mayfair. She has flown to England several times, once flying out of Oshkosh on the Concorde with Joe. She misses him terribly and longs to go back to England "just once more."

She enjoys talking about her English heritage and flies the flag of England and the United States outside her apartment door. Audrey also loves dancing, singing, old movies, exercising, and going to church. She takes the Heritage Place van shopping and goes out often with her family, too.

"I have lived here for 11 years," she said. "I love it here. The staff are great. Everyone is so great."

Now it's time for tea and reading the Royal mail. Thank you, Audrey, for sharing your memories!
